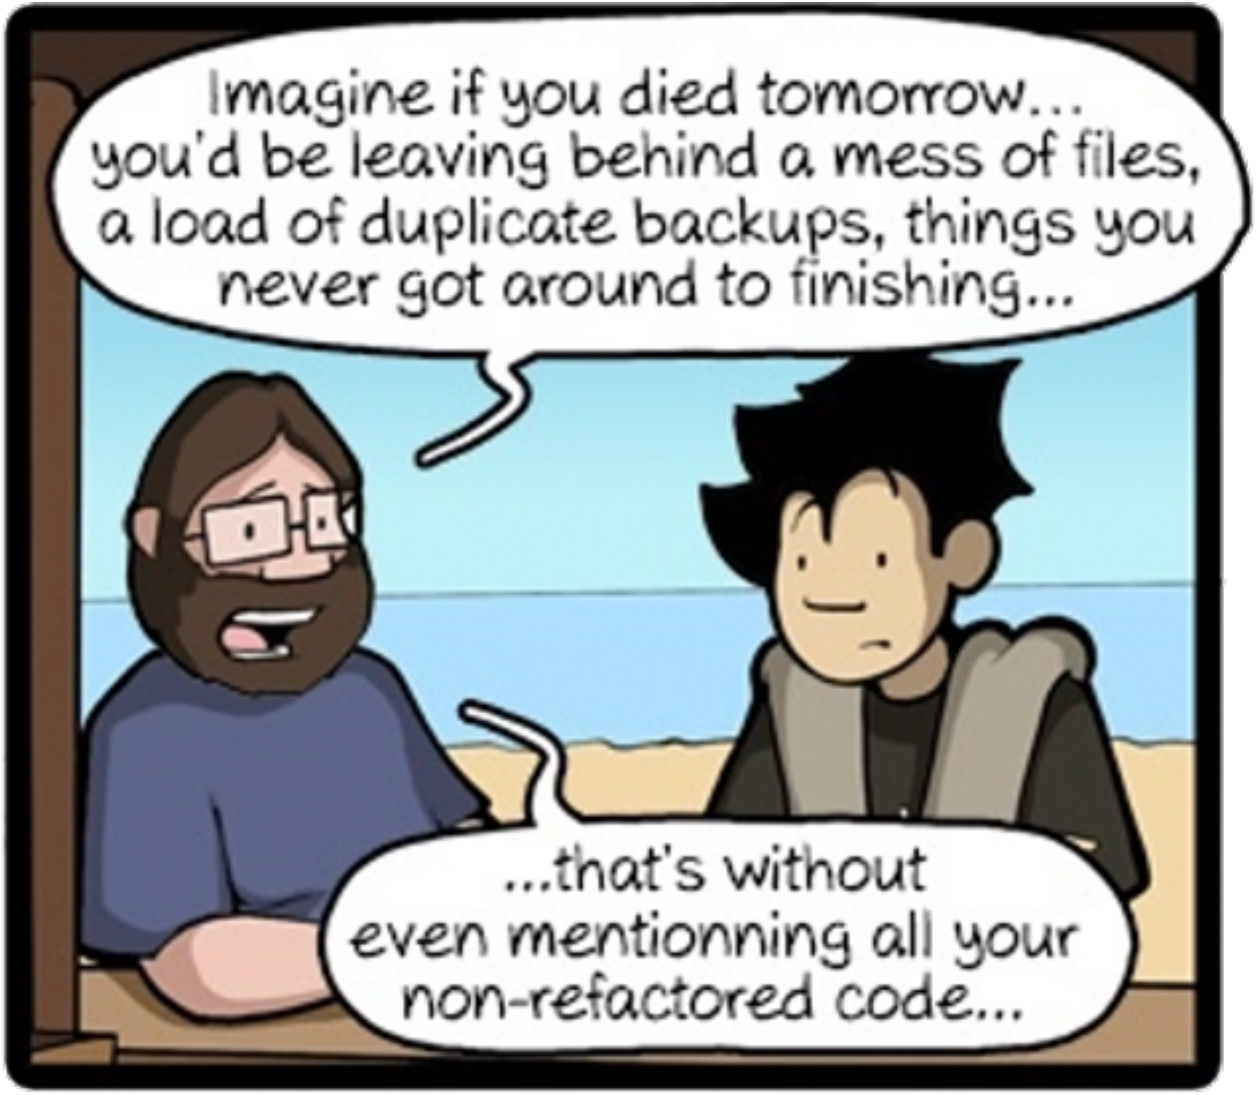
Do you ever think that someday you should, you know, spring clean? Tidy up all your personal files, check your backups, sort your photos properly, that kind of thing...
Yeah of course

When are you gonna do it?
I dunno, someday



Imagine if you died tomorrow... you'd be leaving behind a mess of files, a load of duplicate backups, things you never got around to finishing...
...that's without even mentionning all your non-refactored code...

{dev/talles}

Imagine the number of guys who must have died leaving their files in a mess...
They mustn't be at peace now...
